HEALTH MANPOWER PLANNING Manpower is the most crucial resource toward delivery of health planning. Manpower planning is a technique of correcting imbalances between manpower demand and manpower supply in the economy. Manpower planning is concerned not only with balancing of demand and supply of different categories of manpower, but also with the overall development and utilization of manpower.

The Role of the Pharmacist in the Health Care System: PART ...

Health manpower planning is part of health planning. It links the health care system with the educational system - the institutions and training programmes that prepare manpower for the health care system. Pharmacy manpower planning should be part of health manpower planning and health planning as a whole - especially so, since in very many countries it is concerned with building up a seriously undermanned bur essential component of health services.
